1600 Participate In Camp Grayling Exit Poll

Sixteen hundred Crawford County voters took the time on Tuesday, November 8, to participate in the Camp Grayling exit poll survey. The survey was conducted by GHS government students for Governor Blanchard's Camp Grayling Management Advisory Committee. It was intended to provide the committee with more information regarding the positive and negative affects of Camp Grayling's activities on the residents of Crawford County.

Of the 5124 residents who voted during the November General Election, only 4270 voters were able to take part in the survey. The other 854 residents voted using absentee ballots. Of the 4270 able to participate in the survey, 1600 or 38% completed and returned their survey sheets.

The results of the exit poll survey will be turned over to the Camp Grayling committee on Friday, December 2, when they meet in an executive session at the Ralph A. MacMullan Conference Center at Higgins Lake.

Results of the survey will be made public shortly thereafter.

Children Fooled by New Packaging of LSD, Acid, and Other Drugs

LSD, acid, and other drugs are being sold as brightly colored tattoos, stickers, and stamps that could easily fool a young child, according to an Eagles Auxiliary national newsletter.

LSD is being sold throughout the U.S. as a form of a tattoo called "Blue Star." It comes on a small sheet of white paper containing blue stars the size of a pencil eraser. Each star is soaked with LSD. Each star can be removed and drug users place them in their mouths. Some LSD can be absorbed through the skin simply by handling the paper.

Acid is being sold on brightly colored paper tabs resembling postage stamps that have pictures of Superman, butterflies, clowns, Mickey Mouse, and other Disney characters. Older children have been caught giving small children free "tattoos" laced with drugs.

A red stamp called "Red Pyramid" is also being distributed along with "Micro Dots" in various colors. Another kind called "Window Pane" has a grid that can be cut out.

Some of the drugs sold in this way have reportedly been laced with strychnine, a lethal substance.

The Crawford County Sheriff Dept. said most of these drugs have been found in Crawford County.

Car-Deer Accidents Peak During Fall in Crawford County

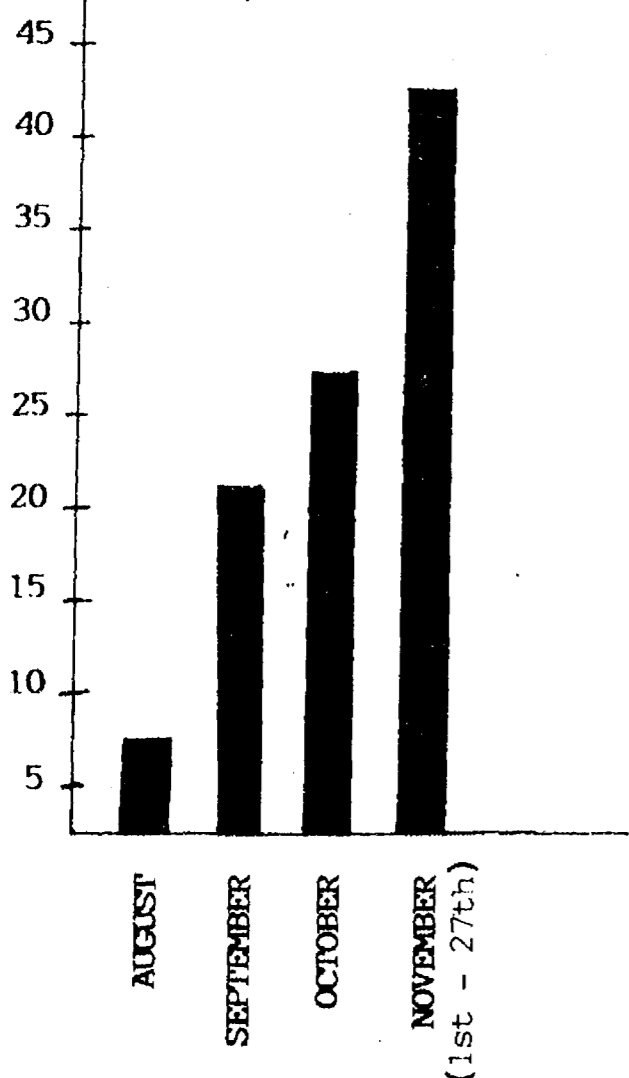

The Crawford County Sheriff Department's weekly complaints listing has indicated a dramatic increase of car/deer accidents over the past several weeks.

According to the Farm Bureau Insurance Company, Michigan's deer herd population is the second largest in the nation.

Statistics issued by the Michigan State police for Crawford County show that in 1987 there were 236 car/deer accidents, injuring five persons. State-wide, Michigan drivers were involved in 38,927 car/deer accidents, injuring 1,751 persons, and causing the deaths of four persons.

Statewide figures show car/deer accidents occur the most during September, October, and November.

New Construction Tops $10 Million In County

By Irene Pettyjohn

New construction, expansion of existing facilities, remodeling projects and the influx of new businesses have all contributed to the continued economic and physical growth of Crawford County.

In the first ten months of 1988 building permits were issued by the Crawford County Building and Zoning Department, Grayling Township and Lovells Township for construction in the following categories:

Single family dwellings ..... 99 permits
Garages ..... 153 permits
Additions/Remodeling ..... 113 permits
Commercial (new and additions) ..... 18 permits
Industrial ..... 3 permits

These permits represent an investment of over $10,000,000 in Crawford County, and does not include any building permit renewals issued in previous years; construction projects that are either ongoing or in the completion stages.

Crawford County's growth is a partnership between the community's private, public and business sectors. Examples of a few construction projects included:

PRIVATE

Bill Borchers, Crawford County Equalization Director, estimated that construction of single family dwellings represented over 1/2 of the $10 million in building permits. Driving around the County evidences this new residential construction, as well as the expansion of existing homes and the construction of new garages and outbuildings such as storage buildings and pole barns.

PUBLIC

Public construction includes: the new North Central Mental Health facility, the repaving of the airport runway by the Michigan Department of Military Affairs and the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, the new Assembly of God Church, the Gazebo Park, the berming around the Crawford County Courthouse, and the new Crawford County Public Transit offices and garages.

BUSINESS

Expansion of the business community in the County includes new construction and the expansion of existing facilities, and the opening of new businesses. This growth includes: the new Pat Gale Agency office on the old Moose Lodge site, the Fox Run Golf Course on Four Mile Road, Hardee's Restaurant, the AuSable Adult Foster Care Home, the new convenience center next to Hardee's, and the ATT office in the Industrial Park.

Expansion of existing facilities includes: the addition of 45 storage units to Loren Goodale's storage facility, the 63,000 ft. Georgia Pacific office and warehouse in the Industrial Park, two office suites at the Milltown Medical Facility, Wolohan Lumber's remodeling project, the new storage facility at Le Coache Tours, expansion of Doorways of the North, Penrod's storage building, the addition of a computer room at the Union 76 facility in Beaver Creek Township, and the construction of a building to house a pool, offices and camp store at the Headwater's

Phillips Given Life Sentence for Murder

John Paul Phillips, 26, of Grayling, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the death of 18-year-old Tracy Lorraine Moon, also of Grayling.

Sentencing took place on Monday, November 21, by Circuit Judge Alton Davis.

Phillips was transferred to the Reception and Guidance Center at the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson on Tuesday, November 22, where an evaluation of his security and placement needs will be conducted.

Probation Officer, David Lemmen, explained that it will be approximately 10 years before Phillips' case will be reviewed for parole. Any parole recommendations made by the state corrections department must be submitted to the sentencing judge, or his successor, and the Judge can either approve or deny the parole.

Phillips was convicted of second degree murder on September 30. His three day trial took place in Otsego County, when a change of venue was mutually agreed upon by both the Crawford County Prosecuting Attorney and the defendant's attorney.

Grayling City police found Moon's body at 7:00 a.m. on Monday, February 8, on the bedroom floor of her duplex apartment, with a knife laying nearby. Moon was seven months pregnant, and in the early stages of the investigation a double murder charge was contemplated.

Moon is survived by a two-year-old son.

Local Police Agencies, SADD Chapter Join 'Tie One On' Campaign

In a campaign to encourage sober driving, the Grayling City Police and Crawford Co. Sheriff Dept. will join the local students Against Drunk Driving (SADD), in a state holiday campaign called "Tie One On." The idea is to tie a bright red ribbon to the antenna, left door handle, or outside mirror of a vehicle during the Christmas and New Year's holiday season, indicating that the driver supports these agencies in eliminating drunk driving.

Alcohol continues to be involved in nearly half of all fatal traffic crashes in the state. Last year, more than 800 people were killed in state alcohol-related traffic crashes.

Additionally, police would like to remind the driving public that in the event they should find they have consumed more than a safe amount of revelry and feel their capabilities to operate a vehicle safely have been affected, patrol units will transport them to their homes if requested. The City Police will take city residents home and the Sheriff Dept. will take other county residents home.

Judge Rules Camp Grayling Negligent in Youth's Death

An Ingham County Judge has ruled that Camp Grayling was negligent in the death of 17-year-old Joseph Anderson and ordered the state to pay more than $1.1 million to the victim's family.

Circuit Court Judge Thomas Brown determined that officials at Camp Grayling did not follow their own safety regulations. Brown heard the negligence lawsuit as a Michigan Court of Claims judge. He stated that he expects the state to appeal this decision.

Joseph Anderson was killed at his family's summer home on K.P. Lake on Sunday, August 15, 1982, when a 105 Projectile shell containing white phosphorus exploded. The shell had been taken from a Camp Grayling range.

Anderson's brothers, James, 21, and Michael, 25, were standing nearby when the shell exploded. James received 2nd and 3rd degree burns over 50% of his body. Michael's burns were less serious. Both young men were flown to Ann Arbor for treatment.

Lieut. Col. Brian Downey, Public Affairs Officer issued the following statement from the Department of Military Affairs:

"While the Department of Military Affairs deeply regrets the death of Mr. Anderson and sympathizes with the family in its loss, we do not feel that we in any way caused his unfortunate accident. We believe that a reading of the trial transcript will show that:

1. All evidence indicated that the unexploded round was taken from the impact area, which is and always has been off limits to all civilian use.

2. The family knew that it was an unexploded round, that the father said that it was dangerous and indicated that he was going to call the authorities to come and remove it, but never made such a call.

3. All witnesses agreed that if today, the unexploded round was still where it landed inside the impact area, Mr. Anderson would still be alive.

4. No evidence was presented at the trial that indicated that we had failed to follow our safety regulations.

For those reasons we are disappointed in the court's decision and feel confident that we will prevail on appeal.

Camp Grayling pursues both a defensive and pro-active campaign to protect the public. Defensive measures include a well marked 5 ft. high welded steel fence surrounding the impact area, and regular patrolling of its perimeter. Pro-active measures include educational programs in area schools and educational information in local media."

New Construction Tops $10 Million In County

Resort at Bradford Lake.

New businesses to Crawford County include: Buccilli's Pizza, C & C Auto Cleaners, DaFu's Chinese Restaurant, The Sports Connection, Fast Break Bar B Q, Archers Alley, Suttles Trucking, Ivie Girl of Grayling, Kathleen's Plus Fashions, Personalized Fashions, Slender Quest, Sleek Images, and Red Keim Realty.

Future building projects currently in the planning stages includes the development of Riverbend Estates (the Rayburn property) which will involve the construction of an 18-hole public golf course and the sale of 220 building sites, a $1.3 million DNR Field Office, a motel complex between Hardee's and the new convenience center, the expansion of the Pizza Hut, and construction of new offices and garages by the Crawford County Road Commission.

How this new growth will affect Crawford County financially is difficult to forecast because of various determining factors. Bor-chers explained that not all building permits applied for in 1988 will be used in 1988, and that construction can only be taxed on the value of the completed portion of the project. He also said that not all construction will generate new tax revenue and that property tax can be computed differently for residential and industrial and commercial property. The North Central Mental Health facility and the Crawford County Public Transit properties are tax exempt.

Residential property is taxed by the ad valorem rate which is 1/2 the value of the property times the millage rate. As an incentive to have industrial and commercial companies invest in Crawford County, a reduced tax formula, the Industrial Facility Tax (which is 1/2 the value of the property times 1/2 the millage rate) is offered to new commercial enterprises. This rate can either be permanent, or for a specific number of years.

Whatever the economical affects of the new construction on the County, a Sunday drive through Crawford County is all that is needed to attest to the County's physical growth.

New Life Community Service Adds to Counseling Staff

New Life Community Service has announced the addition of Bernardine DeBolt to their counseling staff. DeBolt is a graduate of Grayling High School, she has received her Undergraduate in Psychology at Olivet College, and her Masters Degree from Michigan State University. DeBolt is also a Certified Rehabilitation Counselor.

DeBolt has worked as a counselor in private practice and with various social agencies throughout the United States. In addition, she served as a counselor in Ionia State Reformatory. The majority of DeBolt's work with New Life Community Services involves providing individual and group counseling for the inmates at the Crawford County Jail.

DeBolt will lend her expertise to the successful Community Counseling program at New Life. This program provides counseling services for the citizens of Crawford County. Individual developmental counseling, substance abuse counseling, and family/marital counseling are some of the areas served by the programs.

Group counseling, to deal with the concerns of depression, anxiety, separation and/or divorce are in the planning as well.

Sessions are held on a weekly and bi-weekly basis, and fees are adjusted on a sliding fee scale in an attempt to make services affordable to all economic groups. United Way has been instrumental in continuing this program.

As stress and pressures of living in a rapidly changing society intensifies, the role of available and affordable community counseling will continue to increase in significance for the health of every community.

Persons recognize that there is no longer an attached stigma to receiving counseling services and that it is not only useful in crisis situations, but can be a very educative, positive growth experience. Persons wanting to know more about services at New Life Community can call 517/348-2544, Monday-Friday 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

ALL ABOUT TOWN

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson
Avalanche Editor

Printing the truth isn't quite as simple as it seems, especially in a small town like Grayling, Frederic, or Lovells.

Sometimes what you don't print can be as important as what you print.

In a Publishers' Auxiliary column published Nov. 14, 1988, these excerpts were printed from a Texas editor who operated a weekly newspaper around 1899. It seems the Texas editor got fed up with some complaints about errors in the paper so he resolved to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Here's what was actually published:

* "John Coyle, our groceryman, who voted with the Republicans in 1896 and consumes more mail-order whisky than any other member of the Baptist church in this country, is doing a poor business. His store is dirty and dusty. It is a wonder he has any business at all."

* "The Reverend Sty preached last Sunday night at the Christian church. His sermon was punk and uninteresting, except some stuff he quoted from Bob Ingersoll, for which he failed to give Bob any credit. He also recited a few passages from one of William Elbert Munsey's sermons and had the gall to palm it off as his own."

* "Dave Chartier died at his home two miles north of his place last Thursday night. Doc Holderness, who is an old friend of the family, attended him a few minutes before he died. He gave it out that Dave died of the heart failure. That is a lie! Dave died from drinking too much of a very poor grade of mailorder licker. This paper prints the truth."

* "Tom Spadlin married Miss Cordie Meador last trades' day at the county seat. It ain't generally known, but the marriage was brought about mainly by a Remington shotgun manipulated by the bride's father. Tom conducted that marrying was the healthiest thing he could do until other arrangements could be made."

* "Roger Lloyd, cashier of the State bank at Willow Grove died Wednesday evening and was buried Friday by the Odd Fellows in Pleasant Mound cemetery. He had been taking this paper seven years and so far hasn't paid us a cent. We kept thinking that he, being a banker, would pay some time. We will sell the account for two bits' worth of fresh greens."

* "Married: Miss Susie Scruggs and Horace Guffin last Saturday at the Methodist parsonage, the Rev. James C. Williams officiating. The bride is a very ordinary town girl, who flirts with all the traveling men she meets and never helped her mother three days all put together in her whole life. She is anything but a beauty, resembling a gravel pit in the face and walks like a duck. The bridegroom is a natural born loafer and bum. He never did a lick of work until his stepdaddy ran him off from home last fall. He went to the county seat and just before starving to death accepted a job at the livery stable."

One last note about the election. The Associated Press compiled this list of top 20 candidates by votes for President in the Nov. 8 election. Look at the nation's 13th leading vote-getter.

Community Made Buck Pole Success

We wish to express our appreciation to the businesses of Crawford County who wholeheartedly supported the "Orangecoat Roundup" by having their signs on the Buck pole. Also to those who gave of their time to help by selling buttons.

Bill Burrick also donated wood carvings of deer, they are especially appreciated by the winners of the smallest bucks. It is a very busy time for our community and we were very fortunate this year to have WDIV channel IV from Detroit bring their satellite truck and broadcast live to the people in Detroit.

Almanack

By Richard Milliman

Kennedy-mania is overflowing

AMERICANS SEEM to have a habit of overdoing a good thing.

If an early start on getting ready for Christmas is good, then an even earlier start is better. Thus Christmas decorations, carols, specials and merchandising begin right after Labor Day.

If a campaign to inform the voters of what's involved in a presidential contest is good, then an even longer campaign is even better .... and we have just endured what must have been the longest, more intense and possibly the most tiring presidential political campaign in history.

And if remembering our heroes is good, and eulogizing them is proper, and reaching back in time for memories is desirable, then more words, more pictures, more TV specials must be even better.

WHICH BRINGS US to memorializing the death of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Like early Christmas merchandising, and long presidential campaigns, we're up to the chain already in memories of President Kennedy.

It's not that Americans should ignore their fallen leader of 25 years ago. It's just that enough, and even less would be plenty.

How many times does television have to show the fatal ride past the Book Depository Building in Dallas? How many times do we have to be exposed to film of the Kennedy clan playing tough football? How many words do we have to print about the unfilled potential of Camelot?

Overdoing it? You bet.

AS TIME PASSES, and as personal memories fade, the Kennedy legend grows. The slain president becomes more and more of a giant. Mark the present-day words of Frederick Dutton, a Kennedy intimate, who was secretary of the cabinet under President John F. Kennedy.

"Much of the Kennedy we see now, in our mind's eye, is an illusion," says Mr. Dutton. "History has taken some very good ingredients and juggled them around."

"But the myth, the illusion, as we see it from this distance, is setting the benchmark, the standard, for subsequent presidencies."

The passage of time, plus the fact of martyrdom, have indeed increased the stature of John F. Kennedy. Good enough. He has become a hero well worth remembering, and the standards now attributed to him are worthy ones, well worth holding high.

ONE SUGGESTION, however: Let's drop the insatiable curiosity into the details of the assassination itself.

Sure, there is still doubt. Was there more than one gunman? Did Lee Harvey Oswald act alone? Was the Mafia responsible for the Kennedy death? Was Jack Ruby an agent for the CIA, assigned to silence Oswald? Was the CIA at the root of the whole sad plot? Did the Russians plot the JFK death? Was the assassination reprisal from Castro for earlier CIA attempts on his life?

These and more theories are still being expounded. But let's let it rest. What difference does it make now? So what? It all happened 25 years ago, and it's over. Let's close the book finally.

At the time, there was no clear answer. It was a frightening time. In 1963, I was Press Secretary to Michigan Gov. George Romney. On Nov. 22, we had just arrived in Omaha, Neb., to attend a Midwest Governors Conference. We were at lunch prior to a planned tour of the Strategic Air Command base when word came of the tragedy at Dallas.

The lunch was shortened, the tour was scrubbed, the conference was canceled. All the governors hurried back to their home states. Nobody knew what was happening.

Was it a plot against the entire country? Would more assassinations occur? Was it the start of a world war? Who was responsible? No one knew. The worst fears subsided quickly for the governors and for the nation; but still, 25 years later, no one really knows for certain why it happened.

But now, a quarter century later, it really doesn't make any difference. Let's let it rest in peace, and let's remember John F. Kennedy for what he was, and for what he has become.

Texas Recommended For Supercollider

Michigan apparently lost its bid for the $6 billion federal Superconducting Super Collider project as Texas was named by the U.S. Department of Energy as the recommended site. Officials in September had asserted the two states were the top finalists among seven states still under consideration for the project.

A final environmental impact statement is now to be prepared for the Texas site and President Reagan is to make the final decision to locate the 53-mile-circumference facility before he leaves office in January.

Energy Secretary John Herrington said the Texas site was superior to others, based on geology, regional resources and environmental criteria.

He said the farmland area south of Dallas "clearly" received the highest overall technical evaluation ratings and exhibited no significant overall weaknesses.

Governor James J. Blanchard said he was surprised by the announcement, coming within 48 hours of the election, adding he would look to the state's "powerful Congressional delegation" to pursue its meaning and timing.

The governor also asked the DOE to provide a full explanation of its decision to Michigan officials.

Aides said they did not know if Michigan has any options left to consider in trying to win the pure research facility.

Press secretary Tom Scott said the governor wants to make sure the project is managed in the best interests of the country and that the decision was made on the basis of merit, not politics.

He said if a strong perception grows that politics led the decision, Congress will not fund the project.

U.S. Sen. Don Riegle said the decision "has a strong smell of White House politics. We and the other five finalist states got a raw deal."

Texas is the voting home of President-elect George Bush and is the home of U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, who was the Democratic vice presidential candidate, and who said he would do everything he could as Finance Chair to push the project along.

Sen. Vern Ehlers (R-Grand Rapids) said he was puzzled why Texas was selected after scientists had earlier recommended Michigan as the site. "I hope there is no political aspect to it and the secretary only did it to ingratiate himself to George Bush," he said. "I'm sure as can be that George Bush told him not to put it in Texas."

The DOE recommendation means the dismantling of the state Superconducting Super Collider Commission, ending an intensive two-year effort to win the project and the 11,000 construction jobs and 6,300 high-technology permanent jobs it is expected to generate.

Other states which had been under consideration were Arizona, Colorado, Illinois, North Carolina and Tennessee.

Settlement Announced in Drought Insurance Case

Governor James Blanchard and Attorney General Frank Kelley recently announced a settlement agreement, subject to approval by the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, among the parties in the Chubb Insurance Group drought case.

Under the settlement, 1,100 Michigan farmers will be able to share in over $500 million in benefits under their drought insurance policies purchased from Chubb.

In the proposed settlement, Chubb has agreed to establish a fund of $48.3 million to pay claims of farmers in ten states who did not receive sufficient rainfall this past summer.

The company will treat all policies as if they were fully in effect and will pay full claims, deducting previously refunded premiums.

During the past year, farmers had taken out drought insurance policies, however, Chubb had never completely processed the policies. The company claimed, therefore, they were not liable for benefit payments.

Chubb claimed their general agent, Good Weather International, had acted without authority when it issued the policies. Chubb returned the premiums to the farmers in an attempt to void the policies.

The settlement provides that Good Weather will contribute $5 million to the fund which will be used to pay farmers who couldn't collect under their policies because they received the required rainfall, but, nevertheless, lost their crops.

Eye Care News

Richard P. Ferrigan
Certified Optician

Q. Should I get my eyes examined every year?
How about my children?

A. If you are over 35, in your teens or a school-aged child, you should have an annual vision examination. Once every two years may be all you need if you are in your twenties and early thirties, unless your optometrist advises otherwise. Parents should start their children off with a first vision examination by age three and again before entering school. Since vision may change rapidly during the school years, annual examinations make good sense. After age 35, yearly optometric examinations are needed to detect eye disease signs early and to keep pace with changes in vision that occur naturally as we get older.

'Scouting for Food'

Scouting For Food Collects 2,200 Items

On November 19, through the combined efforts of Boy Scout Troop 979 and Cub Scout Pack 3993, 32 boys and 18 adult volunteers took part in the final stages of the Boy Scouts of America national good turn.

This good turn, called 'Scouting for Food' gave the local Scouting programs a way to help combat a problem that affects over 20 million people each month, hunger.

The first part of the good turn was carried out one week prior on November 12 when Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts went door to door to hand out over 1,300 plastic collection bags in Grayling and the surrounding residential areas.

Then, on November 19, the Scouts hit the streets again to collect the bags and the food donations they contained.

The food donations ranged from canned soups and vegetables to boxed casserole and cake mixes. Over 2200 cans, boxes and bags of food were collected, with more coming in.

The food collected by the Scouts was then taken to the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church, and presented to Lorna Morse, who oversees the church's food pantry. According to Mrs. Morse, the food will be shared with Community Services for their Christmas Boxes, while the rest will be retained as emergency food for the families that the Food Pantry serves.

Mrs. Morse was impressed by the huge success of the program, saying that this comes at a good time as our pantry's supplies were starting to get rather low. She also said that she would like to see this sort of thing take place again next year.

According to Loren Goodale III, Scoutmaster for Boy Scout Troop 979, the Grayling Scout leaders are considering the Scouting for Food program again next year.

If you still have collection bags that were not picked up, you can take them to Goodale's Bakery anytime, or call Loren Goodale III at 348-9414.

Cub Scouts Help Collect Canned Goods

Scouting for Food was a big success. There were twenty-eight cub scouts and sixteen parents participating. The scouts distributed over 1,400 bags to area residents, the following week they collected over 2,200 canned goods and other items. The food will be passed out to families in our area sometime soon.

The cub scouts are still selling popcorn, microwaveable or plain. A scout that sells just one box, will be awarded a vest.

Assistant Cub Scout Master Lynn Johnson provided the fun at the November 21, pack meeting. The dens were divided and parents and scouts played Win, Lose or Draw.

Events coming up in December will be: December 3, a sewing bee at Scout Hall to make vests. December 19, at 6:30 p.m. pack meeting. Scouts and their parents will be Christmas caroling at Mercy Hospital. The Christmas party will follow and then Santa Claus will arrive!

Congratulations to the Webelos. They have won "cubbie" this month, and will be enjoying doughnuts from Goodale's Bakery.

A Message To The Voters of The 103rd District:

To those of you who gave me your vote of confidence and supported my re-election to again serve as your State Representative, I am very grateful.

During the past sixteen years, I feel many accomplishments have been made to benefit the people residing in the northern counties which encompass the 103rd District. Too numerous to outline, there are many important projects and programs approved for funding by the State. Hundreds of constituents were helped with personal problems by my office. While I am proud of this record, I continually strive to improve it and do more on behalf of the citizens of northern Michigan.

While I have never made any campaign promises I'm not sure can be carried out, I do promise to serve the next two years to the best of my ability.

Again, thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

It's getting dark earlier these days. You may find night-driving conditions by late afternoon. What can you do to increase safety?

Check your eyes. If you have difficulty driving at night, you may need stronger glasses or special ones for driving. When you go out from a well-lit house or restaurant, it does help to let your eyes adjust before driving off.

Check your car to make sure lights and signals are working. Periodically have headlights inspected for alignment. Wipe them clean frequently.

Check your driving habits. Use low beams if you're following another car. If an approaching driver does not turn off his high beams, flick yours on once as a signal, then return to low beams.

If the other driver still does not cut down to low beams, you can avoid the glare somewhat by keeping your eyes on the edge of the road as a steering guide.

Girls Miss District Title by 2 Points

Disappointed hardly describes the members of the Varsity girls basketball team following their 48-46 loss to Standish-Sterling on Tuesday, November 22nd. The team came so close to bringing home their school's first girls basketball District Championship trophy, only to lose it by one basket in the final five seconds of the game.

Grayling led Standish-Sterling by three points at the end of the first quarter (12-9), seven points at halftime (26-19), and again by three points at the end of the third quarter (37-34). During the crucial fourth quarter the momentum of the game changed, and Standish-Sterling outscored Grayling 14 to 9 to take the lead with only seconds remaining before the final buzzer sounded.

The Standish-Sterling team, with a 5'10" forward and a 6'2" center, was the tallest team Grayling had ever played, said Howard Lehti, coach. Grayling's game plan was to spread out the defense and rely on their offensive play. The girls executed this plan throughout the evening, and the game plan worked. The Standish team got in foul trouble and two of their players fouled out in the fourth quarter.

Grayling was unable to capitalize on Standish's foul situation. They shot only 10 for 27 from the foul line. In the fourth quarter they shot only 3 for 10.

Lehti said that tournament games are always full of pressure situations.

"Anytime you have two good teams playing against each other," said Lehti, "the team that can act under pressure the best is going to be the winner."

Melanie Ojala took high scoring honors for the evening with 12 points, 4 assists, and 3 steals. Other points were made by: Lori Gust 10 (14 rebounds, 7 assists, and 3 steals), Patti Tremblay 10, Deanna Phelps 7 (14 rebounds), Heather Stephenson 5 (3 steals), and Nikki Trenary 2.

"Losing the District Championship game was disappointing to all of us," said Lori Gust, "because we wanted it so much and we worked so hard, and then to lose it in the last seconds was especially disappointing."

Lori said that the team was also sad that basketball season is over.

"Basketball is a team sport and we are going to miss each other; we will miss the talks and the closeness that develops between members of a team," Lori said.

Patti Tremblay said she felt Grayling has a successful season.

"Losing the championship game was disappointing because it was so close," she said. "I could just feel that we were going to win."

We worked as a team through the whole season," said Patti, "we did not go out and strive for individual goals. I wish the outcome of the championship could have been different, but overall I thought we had a good season."

"I have learned a lot about the sport of basketball, about working with others, and I have had a lot of fun," said Deanna Phelps. "And I also learned about myself."

Deanna hopes to earn a volleyball scholarship, and with volleyball season just around the corner, her work is only beginning.

Lehti praised his team for their season, capturing a 16 and 6 record. He said that his coaches believe that this year's team raised the expectation for girls basketball and girls teams in Grayling. Lehti said that the goal was to win a district game, and we came real close to winning the district trophy.

"For the last three years Grayling's girls basketball has a 43-19 record," Lehti said. "We feel that we are doing something right, and we are expecting another good year next year."

Returning to the team next season are eight juniors and one sophomore. The team will miss the five graduating seniors: Lori Gust, Patti Tremblay, Linda Goodale, Deanna Phelps and AJ Pratt.

Gold Medalist Wrestler Stresses Goal Setting

Olympic gold medal winner Steve Fraser will make a guest appearance at Grayling High School on Wednesday, Nov. 30. Fraser will speak to the 490 students of Grayling High at 1:45 p.m. in the school auditorium and conduct a wrestling clinic for the school's team at 3:30 p.m.

Fraser, 30, earned his gold medal in Greco-Roman wrestling at the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles, becoming the first American ever to win a medal of any kind in that competition.

He will be appearing at Grayling courtesy of Domino's Pizza Distribution Corporation, where he currently serves as National Director for Sports Marketing Systems, a Domino's Pizza program designed to assist youth groups in fund-raising.

In his presentation at the high school, Fraser will demonstrate Greco-Roman wrestling holds on a volunteer from the audience and show a video replay of his gold medal winning match.

His motivational speech will stress the importance of goal setting and how it requires making a plan, setting the plan in action, and learning from mistakes as part of the process.

Before his victory at the 1984 Olympics, Fraser had accumulated numerous titles in national and international competition in both free-style and Greco-Roman wrestling. Fraser continues to be active in wrestling as a board member of U.S.A. Wrestling, the sport's governing body, and as assistant wrestling coach at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. He is a resident of Ann Arbor.

A native of Hazel Park, Mich., Fraser won a Class A state wrestling championship in the high school ranks and went on to compete for the University of Michigan. He won the 198-pound class in the 1983 Pan American Games, made the U.S. World Team in 1978 and 1982 and finished fourth at the 1980 Olympic trials before winning the gold medal in 1984.

The '84 Olympic gold figured to be up for grabs between Fraser, who was a Washtenaw County deputy sheriff in Ann Arbor at the time, and Sweden's Frank Andersson, a Hollywood-type magazine idol and three-time world champion.

However, Fraser defeated Andersson and locked up the medal by beating Ilie Matel of Romania in the clinching bout.

Vikings Open Hoop Season December 2

The boys Varsity and J.V. basketball teams will be traveling to Kalkaska on Friday, December 2, to play their season opener.

Because of decreased enrollment, Grayling will be playing in class 'C' competition this year.

Returning lettermen on the team include:

Bud Ostrowski, a two year varsity letter winner, who will be assuming the leadership position of point guard. Marty Jung will be playing forward-guard. Jung is a good defensive player with rebounding capabilities, who will play both the guard and forward positions.

Chris Skidmore, guard, is a good shooter and brings to the team his quickness.

Ted Baynham, who will play the post position, is a good rebounder who sets excellent screens. He is strong inside.

Kraig Hudson, forward, is a fine shooter.

Jeremie Mead, guard, possesses the ability to hustle and is a good shooter.

Mead will replace Ostrowski when necessary.

Fred Shippy is new to the team this season. He is a senior, and will play the post position. Shippy should be strong inside.

Juniors on the team include:

Jim Abney is a 6'6" transfer from Boyne City. He will provide some height to the team. Abney will play the post position and should control the inside; good rebounder.

Brian Palmer will play forward. He is a good shooter and a strong leaper, and has a good nose for the ball.

Tony Doremire, guard, is a good ball handler.

Chad Bonamie, forward, is a good shooter.

Matt Spencer, post, has good court awareness and is a good rebounder.

Kirk Annis is the lone sophomore on the varsity team. Annis will play the post position. He is quick, is a good rebounder, and plays good defensive ball.

Manager of the team is Chris Bindschatel.

Coach Tom Mills expects his team to do well this year if they work hard defensively, and rebound. He said that the team should be a good outside shooting team. The team's height is average, but it possesses some good vertical leapers.

"We will attempt to fast break more this year than we have in the past," said Mills "and apply more defensive pressure."

Last year the varsity finished their season with a 10 and 10 record.

FOOTBALL Contest

Nov. 26-27 Winner

1st Place '50

In the 12th and final week of the Avalanche football contest, Fred Krolikowski used the tie-breaker to win first place. Krolikowski, Betty MacLeod, and Ron "Scotty" MacLeod each had 2 wrong. Fred picked 31 for the tie-breaker and was closer to the right total of 37 than Betty's 48 or Scotty's 50.

Coming in second with 3 wrong were Albert Shomo, Dana Anderson, Bernadine Denton, June Rouse, Corky Hellebuyck, and Chris Wolcott. Watch for our college bowl contest coming soon and our regular football contest will return next fall.

Preserving Wild Game And Venison Takes Care

By Gail Edwards, Extension Home Economist Cooperative Ext. Service 348-2841 ext. 264

Many deer hunters have bagged their buck or doe and will be preserving venison for the weeks and months to come. Like all meat, venison and all wild game need to be handled carefully. Meat is perishable, but following a few good safety tips will allow you to enjoy flavorful and safe game.

Gut wild game as soon as possible and remove shot and splintered bone. Avoid breaking or cutting the intestines or stomach — fluids from these organs contain bacteria that could contaminate the meat. If possible, wipe the body cavity with a cloth dipped in a solution mixed in the ratio of 1 cup of water to 1 tablespoon vinegar. Cool the meat quickly to 32 to 40 degrees F to prevent spoilage and bacterial growth. This can be a problem if the weather turns warm.

Cleaned game can be cooked right away, refrigerated for one to two days, smoked, canned or frozen.

When freezing game, cut large portions into meal-sized quantities. This will present defrosting a larger quantity than you need. Be sure to wrap game in plastic freezer bags or other containers recommended for freezing food. Label each package with the date stored, the type of meat, the cut, the number of servings and/or the weight. Pack your freezer loosely so that each meat package will freeze solid within 24 hours. Thaw all meats in the refrigerator, not on a counter at room temperature.

Meat from small and large game may be canned safely in a pressure canner. Large game may be ground, chunked or cut into strips before canning, while small game — including game birds — may be canned with or without bones. Label your canned game with the date, the type of meat and the style of pack (chunked, stripped, ground, etc.) For complete procedures for canning game, contact Gail Edwards, Extension Home Economist at 348-2841 ext. 264.

Native American Remembers Early Days of AuSable

By Nancy Lemmen

On many Sunday afternoons in the early 1900's, Simon and Harriet Keway's farm near Harbor Springs was the site for big gatherings with family and friends. When their only surviving son, Charles F. Keway Sr., celebrated his 90th birthday this fall, his family may have had Grandma and Grandpa Keway's Sunday gatherings in mind as they planned his party.

Keway's five children and their spouses were in Grayling on Sunday, September 11, as were his grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces and nephews and local friends — 40 in all — to gather first at Chief Shoppenagon Hotel for dinner and gifts and later at Hanson Hall for fellowship.

Keway was born on September 9, 1898, in Harbor Springs. While the passing years have greatly dulled his hearing, they have failed to dull his many memories and his wry sense of humor. "Those were great days," he remembers, referring to Sundays on his parents' farm. "They always had a big deal on."

When asked about the food that was served, he says with a grin, "I don't know too much about it, but I know what it tasted like!" He does recall that his mother cooked meat in special ways, and made corn soups and puddings. "She chopped up that corn fine. They liked her corn soup, my gosh." He explains that she used the multi-colored Indian corn rather than the light yellow maize, because she could work it better.

Mother Harriet Kosequet of Goodhart, and father Simon Keway, who was raised around Charlevoix, Petoskey and Harbor Springs, were both Ottawa (Odawa) Indians. Keway's friend Pat Fowler explains that there are only a few Native Americans left in northern Michigan who speak Odawa, and it is important to him to speak with those who still do. Much of the Odawa heritage is in the language itself and speaking it stimulates his memories as well, she adds.

In 1944, after his parents died, Keway moved his family to Grayling, where he cut timber. They lived in a house on Spruce Street, between the Methodist Church and the Grange Hall, until it burned down in 1956. So Keway began building a new home, in which he still lives, just off M-72 West near Karen Woods. His wife Margaret died in 1976, and since then Keway has lived alone.

But his five children — Phil, Marie, Jim, Chuck and Bill — live close enough to visit regularly. And his family has grown over the years to include 15 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren. He looks at family photos in his albums as he speaks, and often pauses to grin or chuckle at the memories particular ones evoke. "I've got a good family," he says.

Keway remembers hearing about Grayling when he was young. "The AuSable River was supposed to be anyone's river because it had the unusual 'majigan' (grayling)." It was an unwritten rule that the AuSable should stay open for anyone who wanted to fish it — even the Sioux, who were then enemies of the Odawa.

As Keway flips through the pages of his album — many of them featuring photos of family gatherings recent and long past — he comes to a photograph of Lakeview Cemetery in Harbor Springs, a traditional Odawa resting place. "Margaret is lying there," he says. "I'll be there with her someday. My parents and my brother are buried there. That's the place waiting for me."

But that place and those family members must wait a while yet. There are still more stories to be told, more letters to be written, more books to be read, more Sundays with other family members and friends to be enjoyed. Charles Keway still has much to live for.

Chenille Sisters Featured at KCC Saturday

The Weyerhaeuser Performing Artist Series at Kirtland Community College will present the Chenille Sisters on Saturday, December 3, at 8 p.m. in the Gilbert I. Stewart Auditorium. Stunning harmonies and accessible songs blended with campy humor and hilarious skits make the Chenille Sisters special.

Colleges, clubs and festivals have been the mainstay of performance venues for the Chenilles during their three year career. Their big break came when Garrison Keillor invited them to appear on "Prairie Home Companion". They were so successful that they were invited back.

In his understated fashion, Garrison Keillor said, "It's an awful lot of fun to listen to them."

Further major radio and television appearances are being readied, while the popularity of the Chenille Sisters is growing. Musically they draw from a number of styles including jazz, swing, folk, and blues infusing it with all with contagious enthusiasm. They call themselves a "girl group" and say their focus is on fun.

Tickets for the Chenille Sisters are $7.50, 6.00 and 5.00 for regular admission and $6.00, 4.50, and 4.00 for senior citizens and students. Tickets can be reserved by calling Kirtland Community College at 275-5121 or 800-433-2517. Remaining tickets will be available for purchase at the Gilbert I. Stewart Auditorium Box Office one hour before curtain.

The Weyerhaeuser Performing Artist Series receives major funding from the Weyerhaeuser Company Foundation and is also supported in part by the Kirtland Community College Foundation.

Local Business Helping World Wildlife Fund

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Patricia Ann Duley and David Michael Gast are pleased to announce their engagement. Patricia, the daughter of Rose Duley and the late James Duley, is completing her final year of residency in Internal Medicine at St. John's Hospital in Detroit. David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gast of Southfield, is a resident physician in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at the Rehabilitation Institute in Detroit. A June 3, 1989 wedding is planned.

Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers restaurants and the World Wildlife Fund are joining together this holiday season to help save Pandas, Koalas, Snow Leopards and Bengal Tigers.

The World Wildlife is the world's leading organization dedicated to protecting animals from extinction.

Throughout the holiday season, Wendy's customers can purchase plush animal versions of four protected species: Bengal Tigers, Pandas, Koalas and Snow Leopards. Attached to each plush toy is an informational booklet about that particular animal and its habitat.

It is projected that this national campaign will raise more than $500,000 in support of this program.

These toys, which are ideal Christmas stocking stuffers, have been provided exclusively to Wendy's by the World Wildlife Fund. With any Wendy's purchase, World Wildlife plush animals can be purchased for $2.19. These animals have a retail value of more than $7.

A hardback children's storybook, which is devoted to one of the plush animals, is offered free with the purchase of a Wendy's Kids'

Meal during the holiday season. Each Kids' Meal is packaged in a special box decorated with drawings of the four protected species. Together, these educational storybooks comprise a special additional series produced for Wendy's by the World Wildlife Fund.

The promotion is the largest fundraising activity that the World Wildlife Fund has ever entered into with a commercial enterprise.

There is one Wendy's restaurant in Grayling, located at 2141 South Grayling Road.

The Gospel of John

Part 58

The Grieving Savior

In John 11:28-39 we read of the ministry of Jesus to Mary just before He raised Lazarus from the dead. Mary received a personal call to meet Jesus outside of town, probably near the grave of Lazarus. (John 11:28). She "arose quickly, and came unto him." (John 11:29). As Mary responded to the request of Jesus, we note His resoluteness as He calmly remained awaiting her arrival. (John 11:30). In His sovereign plan, God draws the unbelieving Jews who have come to comfort Martha and Mary, to the site of the miracle. (John 11:31).

Mary immediately falls at the feet of Jesus in worship. (John 11:32). In Luke 10:39 we see her at His feet hearing His words as her prophet. In John 11:32 we see her at His feet in worship as her priest. In John 12:3 we shall see her at His feet in service anointing the feet of her king. More than her worship, and words, it is her weeping that touches the heart of Jesus. "When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled," Jesus feels our hurt and sees our tears.

"Jesus Wept." (John 11:35). This is the shortest and a most profound verse in the Bible. We are reminded that Christ was truly human as well as divine. He was acquainted with grief as prophesied of Him in Isaiah 53:3. He was not ashamed to weep with them that weep as stated in Romans 12:15. He willingly identified with others, and is "touched with the feeling of our infirmities." (Heb. 4:15). Contrary to the Greek gods who considered all human emotion as weakness, our Lord Jesus Christ is a God of compassion. There is a time to weep. (Eccl 3:4). Jesus wept over the sickness, death and despair brought upon mankind by sin. He wept over Jerusalem because of their impending judgment for unrepented sins. (Luke 19:41). He wept in Gethsemane with strong crying and tears because of the terrible effects of sin for which He came to die. (Heb. 5:7).

Even the unbelieving Jews were touched by His compassion. "Then said the Jews, Behold him who loved him!" (John 11:36). Others questioned both His love and His power in letting Lazarus die. (John 11:37). They all missed the greatest truth. Jesus Christ loved them too. "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). My friend, the greatest love you can know, is to know that Jesus loves you, weeps over your sin, died on the cross and shed His blood for sins, and offers you salvation through faith in Him.

Scriptures Selected by The American Bible Society

Have you ever driven along an old country road and out in a distant field noticed an old vintage automobile squatting in the tall grass? And as you passed it by its headlights, like eyes, seemed to follow you. Perhaps, for a moment made you wonder what stories it could tell. Like ourselves, possibly accounts of happy times, distant trips and proud feelings we have experienced.

However, in final neglect, this once magnificent machine, now rusted out, no longer functioning properly has been abandoned. It now lies in lonely and desolate surroundings, wasted and forgotten. The hard miles and long endless roads we travel in life take its toll. Tired of it all we sometimes end up in despair and give up. If we don't want to end up like the car in the field, we must keep ourselves in good condition.

Your church or synagogue can offer you the best satisfied service guaranteed to keep you well tuned, shining and new.

Wood Burners

When people see ads in the paper they should know firewood is sold in standard units called "cords," which equal 128 cubic feet. Dense hardwoods, like hickory, oak, maple and ash are the best buys. Softwoods, such as pine, burn rapidly and contain resin or pitch. Use firewood which has been cut, split and dried out for at least one year for more heat and less creosote build up.

Recipes

By Phyllis Brummer

People who entertain during the Holiday season are encouraged to serve little or no alcohol when guests must drive home. There are many tasty beverages that can be served. Some of these recipes were winners in a contest sponsored by AAA for original non-alcoholic beverages. Eggnog is traditional at Christmas and this recipe is slightly different since it includes fruit juices.

Eggnog for the Family

- 6 eggs
- 1/2 c. light corn syrup
- 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
- Dash of cinnamon, cloves and ginger
- 8 c. fresh orange juice, chilled
- 1/3 c. fresh lemon juice, chilled
- 1 qt. vanilla ice cream
- 4 c. gingerale

With electric beater, beat eggs, corn syrup and spices thoroughly. Stir in fruit juices. Cut ice cream into 1 1/2 inch chunks and put in punch bowl. Pour gingerale over ice cream then stir in egg mixture. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Makes 6 quarts.

Fuzzy Noel

- 3/4 c. peach sorbet
- 1/3 c. orange juice
- 1 c. sparkling water
- 3/8 tsp. almond extract

Blend sorbet, orange juice and almond extract until smooth. Stir in sparkling water. Pour over crushed ice.

Michigan Flizz

- 4 oz. chocolate milk
- 1/2 medium banana
- 2 heaping tbsp. marshmallow cream
- 4 oz. orange juice

Blend first three ingredients in blender until creamy. Add juice and blend about 10 seconds. Pour into 12 oz. glass and garnish with orange slice.

Celebration Punch

- 1 1/2 c. sugar
- 2 c. hot water
- 2 c. cold water
- 1 - 6 oz. can frozen orange juice concentrate
- 4 ripe bananas, pureed
- 1 - 6 oz. can frozen pineapple juice concentrate
- 1 - 6 oz. can frozen lemonade concentrate
- 12-liter bottle chilled gingerale

Pour hot water over sugar and stir until dissolved. Add cold water and cool. Add juice concentrates and bananas and stir until juices are melted. Pour into plastic container and freeze 24 hours. To serve, thaw 15 to 30 minutes and place in punch bowl. Stir to break up any large frozen pieces. Add gingerale. Makes 18 5-ounce servings.

New York Deli

- 1 c. vegetable juice
- 1 tsp. dill pickle juice
- 1/4 tsp. horseradish
- pepper to taste
- 1/2 c. ice cubes
- 1/2 tsp. coarse mustard
- generous dash Worcestershire sauce

Blend all ingredients in covered blender. Pour into 8-ounce glasses and garnish with a dill pickle spear.

Jersey Clam Special

- 2/3 c. vegetable juice, chilled
- 1/4 c. bottled clam juice
- 1 tsp. worcestershire sauce
- 1 tsp. horseradish

Blend in covered blender until frothy. Serve over ice cubes in 10-ounce glass. Garnish with cucumber slices.

Salty Puppy

Salt the rim of a 10-ounce glass. Fill with 1/2 c. crushed ice, 3 ounces fresh grapefruit juice and a splash of club soda. Garnish with grapefruit wedge.

I know no method to secure the repeal of bad or obnoxious laws so effective as their stringent execution.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP

Driveway Cracks

We have cracks about 6-ft. long in our blacktop driveway. I sealed them last fall with a liquid sealer and paste filler, but the cracks get wider in colder weather. What do you recommend?

Clean the cracks and completely dry them before using any filler. Do the job in winter when the cracks are at their widest. You may need a better filler like the newer ones that have a rubberized asphalt emulsion.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

Last week I was sorting, and moving artifacts that have been donated to the Hartwick Pines Friends Group. Among the numerous items were a number of chisels of various sizes designed originally for a variety of jobs. Chisels, no matter their size, are designed to remove superfluous wood from holes or surfaces.

There was one that would have qualified as a firming or forming chisel. Its main job was to remove the wood between two auger holes to make a mortise. A firming chisel has a socket for a wood handle and the cutting edge will be at least two inches wide. When our ancestors were building barns, the joint favored for joining large timbers was the mortise and tenon.

Another large chisel with a socket was the framing chisel with a cutting edge from two and a half up to four and a half inches wide. This chisel was designed for heavy cutting and was struck with a heavy mallet. This and the firming chisel both have straight cutting edges while still another large chisel called a slick has a cutting edge some two to four inches wide with rounded corners on the bevel edge. A slick will often be over two feet long and some were as much as three feet long. It is designed to be used with both hands and a shoulder, like a giant plane. The length and the rounded corners are the trademarks of the slick.

Another tool used in the mortise chisel. It usually doesn't have a socket for the handle, but a tang over which the handle fits. The mortise chisel was short and its shank was almost square. This chisel was used to square the rounded corners inside the mortise hole. There were other chisels; but more on that another time.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

A concern frequently voiced by people who seldom see the countryside is based upon the large amount of timber cutting which is occurring throughout the northern part of the state. It seems as if everywhere one looks, large tracts of land have been clearcut. There is no denying that a lot of forest land has been cut, but there is no need to be concerned.

The Department of Natural Resources Forest Management Division, acting under a mandate from the Governor's office, has done much the last few years to stimulate the forest products industry. Several hundred people in Crawford and Roscommon Counties depend, either directly or indirectly, on this industry for their livelihood.

But there is more than economics included in this activity. A large stand of mature trees is a biological desert for most species of wildlife. In the late 1800's the lumberjack saw hardly any deer as he cut the white pine in Northern Michigan. After the trees were gone and new, thick, growth returned, the deer population began to flourish as food and shelter became available. This eventually resulted in the health population of deer we had in the 40's and 50's. In fact, we had so many deer that certain unpopular management techniques were implemented to prevent the starvation of a deer herd grown too large for its winter food supply.

Game and forest managers have learned that a coordinated plan of timber harvest and hunting regulations will help to maintain a healthy and balanced wildlife population.

For example, where do knowledgeable grouse, woodcock and deer hunters go? Certainly not into mature stands of jack pines.

These sportsmen are found in areas where there is regrowth from a timber cut. Generally, five to eight years after a tract is cut, thick, protective new growth offers the habitat these species need for survival.

As for the concerns of people that we are going to run out of wood, foresters estimate that overall, we are growing wood faster than we are cutting it.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

Mother Earth

Oh, Mother Earth what have we done?
To the gift you gave to your beloved son
The rivers once so wild and free
Once ran bank full toward the sea.

Water once so clear and pure
We have filled with poison shore to shore
When men are dying of thirst, what will they think Surrounded by water they dare not drink.

The forests tall that once stood here
That kept our air so pure and clear
That kept the waters shaded and cool
Man destroyed like a drunken fool.

For the land you gave with a generous hand
Many soldiers blood has soaked the sand
As men fought to claim a larger share
To rob and rape till dead and bare.

We have in our heedless wanton way
Destroyed our chance on earth to stay
With time to heal the wounds of man
Perhaps some day you'll try again.

I hope they respect the gift you give
And treat it wisely so they may live
How your heart must grieve at what we've done
To the gift you gave to your beloved son.

Business

'Victoriana' Combines Dolls, Books, and Special Gifts

Victoriana is a new business in Grayling, that offers an unusual combination of merchandise and classes, that when brought together under one roof, emerges as an extraordinary shopping experience for everyone who ventures through the door.

The little shop, located at 218 Michigan Avenue next door to Flowers by Josie, is the creation of Bo Jyla and Sharon Huss. It is the product of a new partnership that was formed on September 1st, when Sharon became part owner of the then Grandma's Dolls.

Grandma's Dolls had been a thriving business featuring the sale and making of handmade dolls. Bo "Grandma" opened the business in July of 1985 and the popularity of the business and classes took off at such a pace, that two years later Bo was threatening to sell, because she was too busy to enjoy what she does best, make and teach doll making.

Bo began asking her friends, "Does anyone want to buy my business?" But when she was asked by Sharon about selling, Bo hesitated. She did not really want out, what she wanted was help, someone to run the business, and let her make dolls. The partnership was formed, and soon after that, Victoriana was created.

Bo Jyla and her husband August moved north from Lansing in 1981. They bought a 50-acre woodland in Kalkaska County, and built their home themselves. Their home has neither electricity or telephone service. Bo sews all her doll clothes on an old Singer treadle sewing machine.

Before moving north, Bo worked as a research assistant of aquatic ecology for Dr. William E. Cooper at Michigan State University.

Sharon moved to Grayling in 1971 with her husband, John, when he became Crawford County's prosecuting attorney. She has four children, and before coming to Grayling worked as an executive secretary to the director of the University Musical Society in Ann Arbor.

Victoriana features three merchandise areas. Dolls, doll making classes, and supplies such as greenware, wigs, eyes, shoes, and clothing (finished and patterns) make up 1/3 of the business. Victoriana also offers limited edition dolls that are signed and numbered by the artist.

Books, special classical and coffee table books, make up a second 1/3 of the business. These books consist of children's classics including e.e. cummings' Little Tree; The Random House Book of Poetry for Children, selected by Jack Prelutsky and illustrated by Arnold Lobel; and Reeve Lindbergh's The Midnight Farm with paintings by Susan Juffers. Bo and Sharon pointed out that books for the shop are selected because of quality of materials, illustrations, and workmanship. Other delightful children's books include pop-ups and musical books to be treasured for years to come.

Shoppers looking for a book for a special adult will find such books as Game In Season (The Orves Cookbook) by Romi Perkins, The Laura Ashley Book of Home Decorating, Barbara Milo Ohrbach's The Scented Room, and The Birds Around Us — created and designed by the editorial staff of Ortho Books. These books are also of the finest workmanship, worthy of display in any home decor.

The final 1/3 of Victoriana consists of a wide variety of merchandise which includes Poestenkill Walking Staffs, handmade North Country soaps, Puff 'n' Stuff Scentchips, handmade wreaths, Victorian pictures, and many many other gift items either for friends (Christmas is coming!), or to compliment your own home.

The Poestenkill Walking Staffs are reproductions of the original 19th century alpine walking staffs used by the fashionable folks who once frequented the popular mountain resorts.

North Country Soaps include UFF DASH SOAP, for use after working in the barn, wood-lot, and kitchen. These soaps remove odors such as fish, gasoline, and onions "uff-da" hands. Other soaps include Scented Birchwood, Glycerine, Scandinavian, Herbal and Hand and Face Soaps.

Scentchips can be used as a sachet, in simmering pots, or burned like a candle with a Wick-cone. They come in 50 fragrances, which can be used separately or combined to create unique fragrances. A combination example that is sure to please is Apple Pie. This scent is created by burning apple and cinnamon scentchips together.

Entering Victoriana is truly a unique experience. The shop is filled with treasures to please everyone from 6 to 60. Everything is available on lay-away, and gift certificates are available for that special person who seems to have everything. A gift certificate would allow them to select something special for themselves.

Leaving Victoriana is difficult. There is so much to see, and Sharon and Bo are always ready to explain a special feature or story behind their merchandise. The Victoriana is a treat that everyone should experience, especially during the holiday season. While you are there, ask Bo about her future class schedule.

The Elementary School Choir, under the direction of Peggy Emerick, will kick off Monday's P.T.A. meeting at 7:00 p.m. The reason for the early start is that the choir members will have already had a full day traveling to Lansing to sing at our State Capital.

Addressing the membership this month will be members of S.A.D.D. - Students Against Drunk Driving. This meeting and all future meetings this year will be held at the Middle School Cafeteria.
